

Writing Task 3 → An email giving advice.

Imagine that your best friend asked you for advice about a birthday present for his/her brother. Write an email to your friend. Use the following plan and the notes to help you.

Start with: Hi.../Dear...

Par 1: say how you are and why you are writing.

Par 2: say what he/she should buy and what the present is like

Par 3: Say why you think his/her brother will like this present and what he can do with it

Par 4: Say that you hope your advice will help and ask him/her to write back

End with: Take care.../Bye for now.../Love...

When we give advice or an opinion we use:

. because/as to say why it's a good idea

You shouldn't give her a dress as she likes trousers better.

. so to show the result

Molly loves reading, so you could buy her a new book.

To give advice we use:

you should/shouldn't

it's a good/bad idea

for you to...

you could...

I think.../I'm sure...
