

Elements of the Novel Cow Called Boy

Notes

Rising Action: The events of the story that lead toward the climax and resolution of the novel.

In chapters 1 to 5 some interesting and adventurous things happened. Josh never used rope to tie up his pet Boy. In training the animal Josh treated the bulkin like a human. Boy followed Josh to school and so many things happened as a result. Josh was late. He left Boy to go into the school. The bulkin followed his master's voice and walked into the school. The class wanted to see and touch the animal. Josh showed them the tricks that Boy could do.

These events are considered the rising action of the novel.
