

Parts of Speech
Plural Nouns – Irregular

We learned that nouns that name more than one end with the letters "s" or "es". These are called plural nouns. But sometimes there is a different way to write the plural nouns. We call these irregular plurals.

Examples: one mouse, two mice one half, two halves

one ox, two oxen

one wife, two wives

one tooth, two teeth

one person, two people

one woman, two women

one goose, two geese

one die, two dice

one loaf, two loaves

one thief, two thieves

one wolf, two wolves

one foot, two feet

one child, two children one man, two men

Write the plural noun after each singular noun. You can use the examples to help you. These plural nouns don't end with "s" or "es".

1. mouse 6. die 11. tooth

2. wife 7. half 12. foot

3. thief 8. wolf 13. person

4. ox 9. loaf 14. child

5. woman 10. man 15. goose

Write a sentence using two of the plural nouns that do not end with "s" or "es".
