

Parts of Speech
Plural Nouns – Irregular

We learned that nouns that name more than one end with the letters "s" or "es". These are called plural nouns. But sometimes there is a different way to write the plural nouns. We call these irregular plurals.

Examples: one mouse, two mice

one die, two dice

one half, two halves

one loaf, two loaves

one ox, two oxen

one thief, two thieves

one wife, two wives

one wolf, two wolves

one tooth, two teeth

one foot, two feet

one person, two people

one child, two children

one woman, two women

one man, two men

one goose, two geese

Write the plural noun after each singular noun. You can use the examples to help you. These plural nouns don't end with "s" or "es".

1. mouse

6. die

11. tooth

2. wife

7. half

12. foot

3. thief

8. wolf

13. person

4. ox

9. loaf

14. child

5. woman

10. man

15. goose

Write a sentence using two of the plural nouns that do not end with "s" or "es".
