

Some, any, how much, how many, a, an, not much, not many, a lot of

Exercise

1. Paul: Mom, I want money.
Mom: How money do you want?
Paul: Well, I don't have money and I want to buy something to eat from the school canteen.
2. Stella: I have friends.
Peter: friends have you got?
Stella: I have 10 friends. We are classmates.
3. Steven: Have you got candies?
Tom: I don't have candies.
Steven: Are you sure? Are you telling me the truth?
Tom: Well, there aren't candies in the kitchen.
4. Sam: Would you like orange juice?
Terry: No, thank you. I've drunk orange juice today.
Do you have milk?
Sam: Sorry, there isn't milk in the fridge. If you want I can give you apple or banana.
Terry: Yes, thank you. I'd like apple.