

The image shows a collection of black silhouettes attached to thin wooden sticks, designed for shadow puppetry. The silhouettes include a large castle with multiple towers, a dragon with wings spread, a witch on a broom, a donkey, a large bat-like creature with spread wings, a small figure in a dress, a small figure with a pointed hat, and a small figure with a crown. The sticks are arranged in a fan-like pattern, radiating from the bottom left towards the top right.
