

Written Composition

Title: _____

A large, empty rectangular box with rounded corners, intended for writing the composition. The box is defined by a thick black border and occupies the majority of the page below the title line.