Coyote woke on a cold morning. He met big Bear and tiny Roadrunner near the river.

"We are going to race," said Bear. "Who will win? Make a guess."

Coyote thought for a long minute. Bear was strong. Roadrunner was fast.

"I choose Roadrunner," he said.

Away they ran. Suddenly Bear stepped on a sharp stone.

Then Roadrunner tripped over a spiny cactus. The runners were sad.

"Cheer up," said Coyote. "Both of you win, and you can still be best friends."
