

IN-FLIGHT INCIDENTS IN INDIA – MORE SERIOUS THAN FUNNY

- In this article some parts of sentences have been left out.
- Your task is to reconstruct the text by filling in the gaps from the list A- K) below.
- Remember that there are two extra parts of sentences that you will not need.

A passenger has recently been taken off a domestic flight in India after trying to enter the cockpit to charge his phone. The man, who was drunk, tried to enter the cockpit _____ for Kolkata from the western city of Mumbai. He was eventually removed from the aircraft and handed over to police because of a security violation. Police later questioned the man _____.

The falling price of air tickets _____ have led to a boom in domestic flights. Carriers say that there are a lot of first-time flyers, which also presents new challenges. One airline, Air Asia India, said it was producing a how-to video for new customers _____, from the need to show up on time to instructions on how to use an onboard toilet.

In another incident earlier this year, a Qatar Airways flight made an emergency landing in the southern city of Chennai, _____ to unlock his phone, where she discovered evidence he was cheating on her. She reportedly began attacking her husband _____, the flight was forced to make an emergency stop.

The behaviour of the crew is not always perfect either. Jet Airways has suspended two pilots for five years after a male pilot slapped his female co-pilot during a flight to Mumbai. She reportedly stormed out of the cockpit _____, leaving the plane on auto-pilot.

(guardian.co.uk)