A Job

Mr. Wang from China had a business meeting with executive manager Mary Jackson about a high position in a Canadian government agency. Mr. Wang says he had a big chance to become the representative of the agency, but he finally failed to get the job with a salary of $80,000 a year. The reason is clear: when he was introducing himself to Mrs. Jackson, his false teeth fell out of his mouth twice. He had these dentures¹ made by a dentist right before the meeting, but the teeth suddenly came loose. This forced Mrs. Jackson to look away in shock. Mr. Wang apologised and went to the toilet to fix the teeth. But when the same thing happened again in the middle of their conversation, Mrs. Jackson was shocked and told him to leave her office immediately. Now Mr. Wang is taking the dentist to court and wants $15,000 compensation.

Ferris Wheel

Everybody knows the Ferris wheel. But do you know who created its design? In 1893, the World Fair was held in Chicago to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Columbus's landing in America. The fair's organisers wanted something as impressive as the Eiffel Tower, which was built for the 1889 Paris World Fair. But finding an attractive design was difficult. Architect Daniel Burnham, whose task was to select the best design for the Chicago World Fair, complained at an engineer's meeting in Detroit in 1891 that they couldn't find anything interesting. Among the audience was George Ferris, a bridge-builder from Pittsburgh. He got an idea and drew the design for the Ferris wheel on a napkin. His original Ferris wheel constructed for the fair was destroyed but another one appeared at the Pittsburgh Carnival in 1899.

A Wonderful Discovery

A bottle of champagne called Veuve Clicquot, produced even before the French Revolution, was sold for 30,000 euros at an auction last month. It is only a thousand euros less than the world record price for champagne. Although it is more than 200 years old, it is still forty years younger than Dom Perignon which is the current record-holder for the oldest champagne in the world. Divers got Veuve Clicquot with other bottles of champagne out of a shipwreck¹ at the bottom of the Baltic Sea four years ago. Wine experts say it is in excellent condition because of the darkness and cold temperature at the bottom of the sea. They also agree it tastes better than any other champagne ever produced.

Milo, a cat, wears a magnetic collar¹ which unlocks its cat flap door. This is to make sure that neighbours' cats can't get in the house to steal Milo's food. But this automatic system caused trouble in the neighbourhood last week. House and car keys started disappearing from inside homes of people who live in the area. When Milo came home with a lot of small objects sticking to its collar, its owner, a pensioner named Ms. Alexander, realised what was going on: the cat was walking round the neighbourhood and entering other people's homes through their unprotected cat flap doors. Milo's magnetic collar kept picking up keys and other objects. Luckily, neighbours saw the funny side of this kind of burglary and did not take the cat owner to court.

It happened in Wisconsin...

Two men in Wisconsin were arrested after one of their mobile phones called 911 by accident. The owner of the phone didn't lock the mobile keypad¹ and put the phone in his pocket. Thanks to this 'pocket call', which lasted about thirty minutes, police officers could hear how Peter Evans, 29, and Brian Johnson, 28, talked about stealing from a local jewellery shop that morning. The men were in their old car driving quickly away from the shop when the phone call was made. Both Evans and Johnson, who even described their car during the accidental call, were arrested when they later arrived at a petrol station on Atwood Street.
