

WRITING

Your friend is going on holidays. Write a letter to him/her and ask about your friend's holiday plans for this summer. Include the following points:

- where he/she wants to spend his/her summer;
- what he/she is going to do in each month of the summer;
- who he/she is going to spend most of the days with.

Write a letter

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

WRITING

You are due to move into a rented apartment next month but you will not be able to because you have some problems. Write to the landlord. In your letter:

- explain your situation;
- describe you problems;
- tell him/her when you think you can move in.

Write a letter.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.

WRITING

You are going to write a book about your school life. Write a letter to your English penfriend. In your letter mention:

- who of your classmates you would like to make the main characters;
- what events of your school life are most memorable;
- in what way the knowledge you've got at school will help you in life.

This image shows a single sheet of white paper with horizontal blue or grey ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and run across the width of the page, providing a template for handwriting practice. There are no margins, text, or other markings on the paper.