

Grade 10

Methods of production

1. Match a method of production with the correct description.

1) a method of production where similar items are produced together in groups.

2) a method of production where large number of the same products are made.

3) a method of production which involves producing unique items that meet the specific requirements of customers

Flow production

Batch production

Job production

2. Match the pictures to the correct method of production:

Flow production

Job production

Batch production