

Mr Benson is phoning Diana Travel Agency to make enquiries about a trip he wants to take with his family.

Travel agent: Diana Travel.

Good morning. Can I help you?

Customer: Oh, hello. Er... yes. My wife and I are having two weeks holiday this coming summer. We'd like to go to Athens. We'd like to spend a few days in the city and see the sights. Do you think you can arrange this trip together with sightseeing for us?

We don't want anything too expensive.

Travel agent: Let me see... Mmm... In this case, I'd recommend a package trip by Cosmos 10

Airways which organises charter flights. It includes airfare, hotel and tours.

Customer: If we took this package, how long would we stay in the city?

Travel agent: It's a fourteen-day trip. Ten days in the city and four one-day tours to places of interest outside the city.

Customer: How much does the package cost?

Travel agent: About 300 pounds. This figure, however, doesn't take into account possible increases in airfare.

Customer: That sounds interesting. Could you tell me if the price also includes meals?

Travel agent: No, only breakfast is included in the package.

Customer: I'd like to check another possibility with you.

20

Travel agent: Certainly.

Customer: I wonder if we could travel on our own and have you make all the necessary reservations.

Travel agent: Yes, certainly, but you must bear in mind that the cost would be less, if you took the package trip. You see, the airline gets a special rate for the hotel and the tours. Besides, this trip is very popular, because we offer an excellent value. I suggest that you make an early booking.

Customer: Well, I think I'd like some more information about this package. Can you send me a brochure and full details on dates and prices?

Travel agent: Of course, sir. I'll be happy to post it to you today. May I have your name 30 and address, please?

Customer: Benson, Thomas Benson. 208 Surrenden Park, Brighton.

Travel agent: Please don't hesitate to phone if you need any further help.

Customer: Thank you, I won't. Goodbye.

Travel agent: Thank you for calling. Goodbye.
