

STRATEGIES FOR READING A RESEARCH PAPER

Break down large pieces of text into sections

Take notes as you are reading

Pause to reflect on the information you have read

Take regular breaks if you are reading longer pieces of information

Have a dictionary and a highlighter to underline words that you are not familiar with

When reading a text for the first time, try to understand the main idea, rather than the individual words – don't let unfamiliar words prevent you from reading further
