

Human Body

Identify names and functions of organs.

Use the word bank to match the organ to the clue.

heart	lungs	liver	intestine	brain
stomach	vein	womb
muscle	skull	kidney	bladder	skin

1. You need at least one of me to live. I filter waste out of your blood. I am located in your lower back. What am I? _____

2. I am one of the largest organs in your body. I am protected by the rib cage. I take in oxygen and push out carbon dioxide. What am I? _____

3. I store food you've eaten and break that food down into a liquid mixture. What am I? _____

4. In an adult I am about 5 feet long, but I'm all curled up inside. I break down your food and absorb important nutrients. What am I? _____

5. I am a muscular sac. I hold your body's liquid waste. What am I? _____

6. The cerebellum and cerebrum are important parts of me. I am the boss of your body. What am I? _____

7. My outer layer is called the epidermis. I protect your body and allow you to have the sense of touch. What am I? _____

8. I filter waste out of your blood. I turn that waste into a chemical called urea and send it to the kidneys. What am I? _____

9. I look scary. I protect the brains from damage. What am I? _____

10. I am a very important muscle. I am located to the left of the middle of your chest. I have four chambers. What am I? _____

11. I make it possible for you to move. What am I? _____

12. I carry blood around your body. What am I? _____

13. I keep a baby safe for 9 months. What am I? _____