

Houses in the UK

Watch the video and complete the gaps:

- 1. About of people live in the houses not in the
- 2. There are several types of the houses in the UK:

- 3. The detached is a standalone house. There is a floor and the floor. There is an under the roof. There is a room, a room and a kitchen
- 4. British people love gardening. They have a garden and a garden. Gardens are usually

..... There is one or two trees, a and a few

When the weather is people spend time in their cosy gardens with their families and friends.

- 5. A semi-detached house is actually houses joined together where families live to each other. Semi-detached houses are the most common type of the houses in the UK. They are usually in the of the city.
- 6. The bungalow is a detached storey house. Some of them have an extra in the attic, but it's not typical, because there is usually quite a liittle under the roof. This type of property is typical rural are of the UK.
- 7. Terraced houses and block of flats are ususally in the city houses are a lot of houses joined to one nother and they form a row. These are homes for class people or people who have no much money. However, the flats are really A terraced house in the UK is called a in the USA.
- 8. A is called a tower block.
- 9. Flats are not very only 15% people live there.