

MOLLUSCS

Molluscs are another large group of invertebrates.

By the end of this lesson, you will understand why a spider is not an insect.

They have a shell for protection.

They do not have a shell.

They have soft bodies.

What do all molluscs have in common?

They use their tentacles to move through the water.

They also have soft bodies.

They have two shells that open and close.

They have a soft body.