

Florida Slang Terms You'll Want to Snap Up

Oye!

Found mostly in Southern Florida, oye is a way to say "hey" or "hello" to someone. Like a lot of Southern Florida slang, this term has roots in Cuban.

Example: Oye, how you doing?

Jit = Usually a kid, but it can be anyone younger than you :)

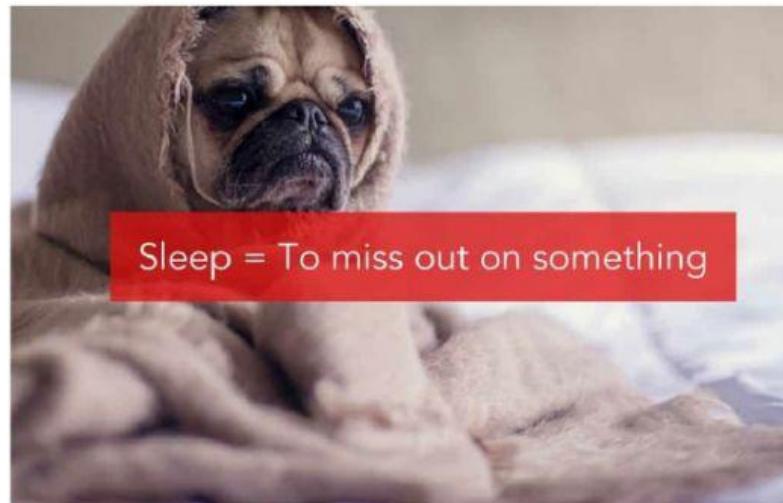

Kids in the class below you? Jits.

Your neighbours child? Jit.

We're parked in Goofy

= Meaning you have parked a very long distance from your destination

"We're still about 10 minutes away, we had to park in Goofy!"

Sleep = To miss out on something

Sleep = To be missing out on something

"You are 'sleepin' - that club is hot!"

Buss/bussin = Good food

Buss/bussin = Good food, tasty food, DELICIOUS food

"That new tapas restaurant is bussin'!"

Gator

Gator is slang for an alligator in Florida. It makes sense, they shorten the word since they have a lot of these creatures.

Example: Did you see that gator?

Fun Fact :)

Florida Man

"Florida Man" is a derogatory slang term that became popular in 2013 after a meme was created about a person from Florida that ate a man's face. Shortly after that, this term sprung up to describe bizarre or idiotic Floridian behavior.

Example: Did you see that headline about the guy being arrested for sticking chicken nuggets up his brother's nose? That was a Florida Man for sure.
