

LEAP INTO ENGLISH

TOEFL PREPARATION COURSE

Vocabulary Practice.

Unit 1 – Biology

A. Choose the correct word to complete the sentence.

1. Reptiles can be _____ from other mammals by the fact that they are cold-blooded and have scales.
a distinguished b classified c identified
2. An important _____ of amphibians is that they can live on both land and water.
a gene b system c characteristic
3. Ocean fish cannot _____ in fresh water.
a survive b identify c adapt
4. Skin is the outermost _____ of the human body.
a cell b layer c link
5. Scientists _____ there are over 8 million species on Earth.
a classify b identify c estimate
6. Minerals and vitamins are essential _____ for the human body.
a nutrients b links c characteristics
7. One _____ in the development of biotechnology was the discovery of DNA.
a system b process c factor
8. The number of red blood cells may _____ according to oxygen content.
a estimate b vary c distinguish

B. Complete the sentence with the correct form of the word from the box. Use Google to help you.

cell	characteristic	identify	microscopic	survive
------	----------------	----------	-------------	---------

1. Microbiology is the study of organisms at a _____ (adj) level.
2. A _____ (n) magnifies objects that are too small to be seen by the human eye.
3. New DNA-based methods have been developed for the _____ (n) of species.
4. Climate change is threatening the _____ (n) of many living species.
5. Polar bears are _____ (v) by their long necks and powerful shoulders that make them excellent swimmers.