It is not (13) _____ for adult students of English to improve their accents. (14) _____ children, who are flexible, adults often find it hard to change the way they (15) _____. This is why even the top or smartest adult students have difficulty with pronunciation. There are several things that an international student can do to improve his or her pronunciation. One method is to sign (16) _____ for a pronunciation class. Studying pronunciation can help students to understand the rules of English, but in order to practice speaking, students often need to be exposed to English outside the classroom as well. This is why many students say that studying in an English-speaking country greatly affects their English. Living with (17) _____ speakers can help students to pick up new vocabulary (18) _____ improve their accents. International students can also learn important cultural information. This can help to prevent misunderstandings that can occur when people from different cultures live together.

IV. Read the passage, then decide if the statements that follow it are TRUE or FALSE. (1.5 pt)

Almost a hundred thousand people were killed and half a million homes destroyed as a result of an earthquake in Tokyo in 1923. The earthquake began a minute before noon when the inhabitants of Tokyo were cooking their midday meals. Thousands of stoves were overturned as soon as the earth began to shake. As a result, small fires broke out everywhere and quickly spread. The fire engines were prevented from going to help because many of the roads had cracked open. It was impossible to use firefighting equipment as most of the water pipes had burst. Consequently, over ninety percent of the damage was caused by fire rather than by the collapse of the buildings. Most of those who died were not killed in the earthquake itself but in the fires which followed. If the earthquake had occurred at night while people were sleeping, far fewer would have died.

Task 1: TRUE or FALSE

19. More than a hundred thousand people were killed in an earthquake in Tokyo in 1923.
20. The earthquake began a minute before lunchtime.
21. The fire engines were prevented from going to help because most of the water pipes had burst.
22. Most of the damage was caused by the collapse of the buildings.
