Petra

I grew up in Germany, but when I was 17, I moved to Spain so I could go to a tennis centre there. It was hard to be without my family and friends, especially when I hurt myself or got ill. However, my tennis improved a lot. After three years, I left the centre and began my career. I started playing in big competitions around the world. I did OK, but wasn't earning enough money, so I quickly decided to become a tennis coach instead. I now teach children who are just starting the game, which is fun.

Bea

When I was 14, my dad sent me to a tennis centre near my home in Italy. He thought I might become a top player like him, but I saw how much time he spent going from one country to another during his career, and I've never wanted that for myself. My favourite things at the tennis centre were spending time at the pool or having barbecues with friends in the evenings. I'm now a coach, and teach young tennis stars at summer camps in Italy.

Sara

When I went to live in Spain so I could go to a famous tennis centre there, my dad came with me, and my mum stayed at home in Scotland. My tennis really improved during my two years there, but when I broke my foot it became clear that a career as a tennis player wasn't going to be possible. I went home for a year and then returned to the centre to do a coaching course. I now teach the best young players in Scotland.

Alan

I have got a laptop and it's usually in my bedroom. Sometimes my brother takes it to watch a film and I can't find it. He can't understand why I get angry! I use the web to download games or find out how to repair my laptop. There's lots of useful help online, so I am never worried. I don't like shopping for clothes online. It's not safe and you can't always get your money back.

Greg

When I go out I always take my phone. I usually ask, "What's the wifi password?" in café and friends' houses. I love looking for new clothes online and I need a fast connection! My parents check I am using safe websites. You have to be careful and tell an adult if you are worried about what you should or shouldn't do online.

Penny

For important homework, like research for geography, I always use my computer. I have got my dad's old one. It is quite slow but that is OK! The best thing about the Internet is that you can find information about any school subject. The worst thing is that not everything you find is true. You have to check several web pages before you finish! But that takes time and I worry about feeling tired. If I don't finish by 11 p.m., I will be tired the next day.

A very clever family

The Smiths are possibly the cleverest family in the country, and now the youngest member, ten-year-old Charlotte, has won a national spelling competition to add to the family's successes. Charlotte is the youngest ever winner of the National Young Spelling Bee Competition – the youngest winner before her was her older sister, Helen, who won it when she was eleven. Charlotte and Helen's older brother, Mark, is also very clever. He finished school early and went to university at the age of fifteen, three years before most young people start their university studies. The children's parents, Charles and Vivien, are both teachers and say their children's success comes from working hard, playing hard and following strict rules about homework and bedtimes.

Other people think that Charles and I don't let the children have any time to relax and play, and that we're always making them do their homework. But it's not true!' says Vivien. we have lots of fun time in the family. But there's a time for fun and there's a time for work, and we make sure the children understand that work comes before play.'

When Charlotte took part in the spelling competition the whole family, including her grandparents, went to watch her.
