

English for children

Write the correct preposition.

- The preposition at is used to refer to specific times and moments of the day:
ten o'clock
midnight
- We also use at with some expressions of time:
Christmas
the present
the moment
the weekend
- The preposition on is used with days of the week and dates:
Monday
my birthday
April 10
- The preposition in is used with months:
January
the previous month

Find us on Facebook

Lore Fonseca

English for children

- is also used with the seasons of the year:
summer
winter
autumn
spring
- As well as with longer periods of time:
this century
the 1960s
- And with some time expressions that refer to periods of the day (except with "night")
the morning
the afternoon
the evening

 Find us on Facebook

Lore Fonseca

