

Welcome to

GERMANY

Germany is a country located in Central Europe. It is bordered by nine countries and has access to both the North Sea and the Baltic Sea.

The capital city of Germany is Berlin and the official language is German.

Germany has a rich cultural heritage, and traditional costumes, known as Trachten, and each region has its own unique styles and variations.

The national flag of Germany is a tricolour consisting of three equal horizontal bands displaying the national colours of Germany: black, red, and gold

Pretzels, or "Brezel," are a popular snack in Germany. These twisted, salted breads have a golden-brown crust and a soft interior. They are often enjoyed with mustard or accompanied by sausages (famous food in Germany) and beer.

Oktoberfest is one of the world's most famous beer festivals, held annually in Munich. Running for about two weeks from late September to the first Sunday in October, it attracts millions of visitors from around the globe.

