

Use the correct tense form of the verbs in bracket to complete the story about an item of clothing

Almost everyone _____ (have) a cosy hoodie. But how _____ (they/appear)? Though the term 'hoodie' first _____ (use) during the 1990s the history of the clothing item _____ (go back) to the times of the Roman Empire. Hooded sweatshirts _____ (first/produce) in the 1920s in the US, mainly for workers to keep them warm. In the 70s, the hoodies _____ (become) a cultural symbol for hard work and rebellion (бунтарство). Graffiti artists, hip-hop musicians and Sylvester Stallone's film 'Rocky' _____ (add) to its popularity. Since 1980, designers _____ (put) the item on the catwalk. By the 21st century, it _____ (get) a negative image because people started linking it with trouble-making teens and anti-social behaviour. However, it's easy to see the reasons why people still _____ (love) the hoodie: it _____ (provide) a sense of privacy and coziness, with nothing more than the flip of the hood. That is why the hoodie _____ (be) around for 3,000 years, and probably _____ (be) for 3,000 more.
