

Complete the dialogue with too many and enough.

Paul Have we got ⁽¹⁾ enough food for the party?

Lily Yes, I'm sure there's ⁽²⁾ food. Last time we made ⁽³⁾ sandwiches and we were eating them all weekend!

Eva But there isn't ⁽⁴⁾ to drink.

Paul OK, I'll get some more bottles of orange juice.

Eva There are ⁽⁵⁾ armchairs in the room. We need more space to dance.

Lily How many CDs have we got?

Paul Erm ... 43, I think.

Lily That's ⁽⁶⁾ ! We can't play them all.

Paul But last time we didn't have ⁽⁷⁾ CDs. Anyway, we don't need to play them all.

Eva Right. You can never have ⁽⁸⁾ CDs.

Make sentences.

tell / switch / for / can / me / what / is / you / this / ?

Can you tell me what this switch is for?

machine / you / is / tell / can / me / this / what / ?

me / button / for / tell / this / can / blue / is / you / what / ?

does / me / can / lever / tell / what / you / this / ?

Put the dialogue in order.

- ☐ Bradley The green button?
- ☐ Bradley Ah, to cook them. And can you tell me what this switch is for?
- ☒ Bradley Can you tell me what this machine is?
- ☐ Bradley Mmm, I like soup. Can you tell me what this lever does?
- ☐ Bradley I love your machine. Can I try some soup now?
- ☐ Professor When you press that lever, all the vegetables fall into hot water.
- ☐ Professor Yes, when you press the green button, the soup is put into cans and you can drink it.
- ☐ Professor Certainly. It makes lots of different vegetable soups.
- ☐ Professor It's for starting the knives inside. They cut up all the vegetables. And finally you press the green button.
- ☐ Professor Certainly. Here you are.

