Articles (B2)

1. Complete with "a / an / the" or "-" for no article.

1) _____ cheetah can run faster than any other animal.

2) _____ cheetah is the fastest animal on land.

3) _____ cheetahs can run faster than any other animals.

4) Can you close _____ door, please?

5) Do you know _____ actor who played the lead role in "Titanic" and "Inception"?

6) He has had an accident, so he is in _____ hospital now.

7) He has had an accident, so I am visiting him in _____ hospital.

8) I would be happy for _____ ideas or _____ information.

9) In the Ski Break, I stayed at _____ home and I bought something online by _____ card.

10) She is _____ engineer.

11) The Shanghai Maglev Train can go at 430 kilometres _____ hour.

12) We had _____ breakfast on the patio _____ last summer.

13) What _____ f*ck!

14) What _____ surprise!

15) While it was raining, I saw _____ man without _____ umbrella.

16) Would you like to travel to _____ Moon?

17) Yesterday I saw _____ dog in a garden. _____ dog was barking at me.

2. Match each rule below with a sentence from above.

"A / AN"

- when we refer to one of something (also in negative expressions)
- when we refer to something that we mention for the first time *
- when we refer to something as a classification, e.g. a job
- when we talk in general and we mention one typical member of a group **
- in an exclamation starting with "what" ***
- as a synonym for "per"

"THE"

- when we refer to something that we have mentioned earlier *
- when we refer to something that is clear from the situation
- when we refer to something that is unique, so everyone knows which one we mean
- when we define which one we mean
- when we refer to a physical place ****
- when we talk in general and we mention one member of a group as a general example **
- in a swearing exclamation starting with "what" ***

Zero Article

- with plural or uncountable nouns
- when we talk in general and we refer to a group with a plural / uncountable noun **
- when we use a place name for an abstract concept, e.g. art form, service ****
- in fixed expressions
- with meals, days, and months, especially before "next / last"