

MIXED CONDITIONALS

If or condition		Main clause or result
second	Simple past	would could + base form might	unreal now
third	Past perfect (had + past participle)	would could + HAVE + PAST PARTICIPLE might	unreal past

Complete the gaps to make mixed (2nd. -3rd. or 3rd. -2nd.) conditionals.

1. I drank so much beer last night. Now I have a headache. If I hadn't drunk so much beer last night, I _____ a headache now.

2. Jerry is not brave. Last Friday at the party, he met a girl but didn't ask her her phone number. If Jerry were brave, he _____ her her phone number.

3. I learned Japanese when I lived in Japan. Now I make a lot of money as an English- Japanese interpreter. I _____ as an interpreter if I hadn't learned Japanese.

4. I called my friend because I miss her. If I didn't miss her so much, I _____ her.

5. You forgot to water my plants when I was on holiday. Now they are dead. My plants _____ alive now if you had watered them when I was on holiday.

6. I met Paul at that concert two years ago. Now we're engaged. If I hadn't met Paul at that concert two years ago, we _____ engaged now.

7. Bill lost his cell phone. He is very sad. Bill wouldn't be so sad now if he _____ his cell phone.

8. My sister crashed the car. It is in the mechanic now. I would lend you my car for the weekend if my sister _____ it.

9. I didn't go scuba diving with you because I don't like it. If I liked it, I _____ scuba diving with you.

10. I couldn't give her a prescription for the stomachache because I am not a doctor yet. If I _____ a doctor, I _____ her a prescription for the stomachache.

11. My mum is well now. The doctor realised what was wrong with her. My mom _____ fine now if the doctor _____ what was wrong with her at the beginning.

12. They missed the fireworks because they are sick. They _____ the fireworks if they _____ sick.

13. We can't bake a cake. You didn't buy all the ingredients. We _____ a cake now if you _____ all the ingredients.