

Past continuous

Talking about two events in the past

was/were + -ing

In this unit you learn about using the past continuous to talk about the past.

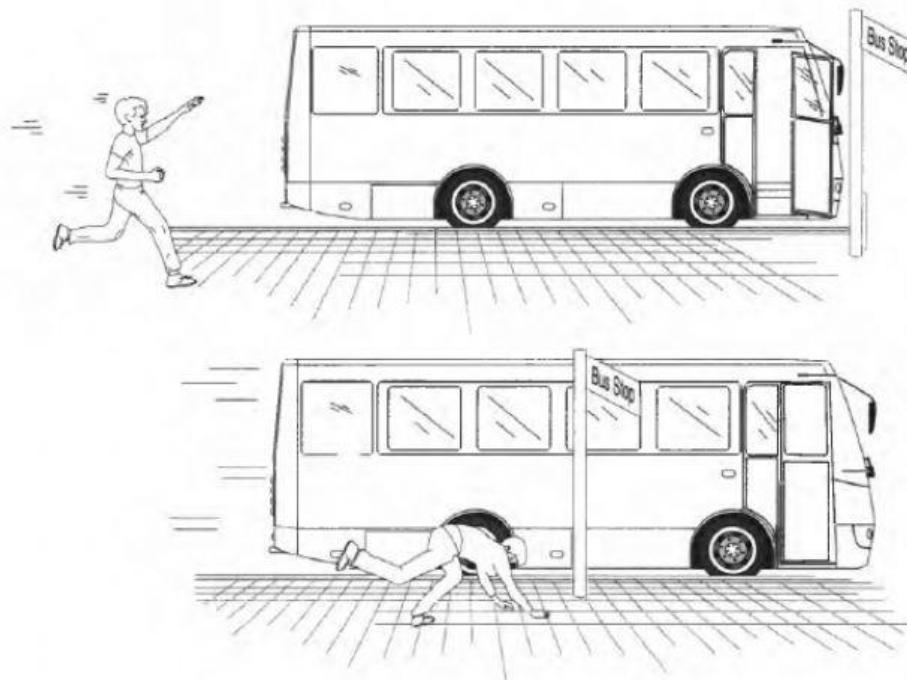

What was everybody doing when the clock struck midnight?

Anna was laughing at something and her sister, Helen, was sleeping in a chair. Helen's husband was drinking a glass of lemonade and his brother was dancing with his wife. Helen's two children were watching a film on TV.

You use the past continuous to describe continuous actions in the past.

I/he/she	was/wasn't	sleeping	all night.
you/we/they	were/weren't	dancing watching TV
Was	I/he/she	reading
Were	you/we/they	working	all night?

You can use the past continuous with the past simple to compare two actions. You use the past continuous when you describe the longer action.

William was running to catch a bus when he fell over.

You can compare the two actions using when, while and as.

I was swimming in the sea when it started raining.

I texted my friend while I was waiting for the bus.

As I was leaving home, the phone rang.

You can put the two parts of these sentences in a different order:

When it started raining I was swimming in the sea.

Remember!

You use when before the past simple and while or as before the past continuous.
