

5B VOCABULARY Relationships

My best friend at school

Read the story and complete it with the correct form of the verbs from the list. Remember to use the simple past.

be become get in touch get along feel leave lose touch meet

I first ¹ met Emily on my first day in elementary school. We both ² became very lost and afraid, but we soon ³ got along best friends. We ⁴ got in touch very well from the beginning because we liked playing the same games together. We ⁵ became best friends for over 15 years, all the way through high school, but unfortunately we ⁶ lost touch when we ⁷ left school to go to college. Recently I found her on Facebook, and I sent her a message. She ⁸ responded, and we're going to meet up again after all these years!

My parents

- a Read the story and complete it with the correct form of the verbs from the list. Remember to use the simple past.

celebrate fall in love with get married get to know go out together propose see

My dad says that as soon as he ¹ saw my mom he ² fell in love with her. My mom says that after a couple of months, when she'd ³ met my dad, she felt the same. I don't know if that's true or not, but what I do know is that they ⁴ got married for seven months before he ⁵ proposed to her in 1961 at Carnegie Hall while they were listening to a concert! My mom said "yes," and they ⁶ got out together in 1963 in New York City. They ⁷ celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last year and are still incredibly happy together.

My disastrous date

- a Read the story and complete it with the correct verb from the list. Remember to use the past tense.

ask ask out like not get along give have introduce

I'd just broken up with my boyfriend and a coworker ¹ introduced me to Paul, his roommate, at a restaurant in the summer of 2008. He was very good-looking and I really ² liked him. At the end of the evening, he ³ asked me out for my phone number so I ⁴ gave it to him. I was really happy when he called me the next day and ⁵ introduced me to for dinner. Unfortunately, the date was sort of a disaster because although he was attractive, we really ⁶ didn't get along. During the meal, I found out that we ⁷ had nothing in common. Of course, we never had a second date.