

Have and have got

Have got	Have
(+) They've got a brother.	They have a brother.
(?) Have they got a brother?	Do they have a brother?
- Yes, they have.	- Yes, they do.
- No, they haven't.	- No, they don't.
(-) They haven't got any brothers.	They don't have any brothers.
(+) She's got long blonde hair.	She has long blonde hair.
(?) Has she got long blonde hair?	Does she have long blonde hair?
- Yes, she has.	- Yes, she does.
- No, she hasn't.	- No, she doesn't.
(-) She hasn't got long blonde hair.	She doesn't have long blonde hair.

	HAVE GOT 	HAVE
• possession	We have got a cat.	We have a cat.
• relations	You haven't got a sister.	You don't have a sister.
• school subjects	She has got Slovenian on Mondays.	She doesn't have Slovenian on Mondays.
• school clubs	He's got karate after school.	He has karate after school.
• people's appearance	It hasn't got big ears.	It doesn't have big ears.
• illness	I've got a headache.	I have a headache.
• activities	X	I have... You have... He has... She has... It has... We have... You have... They have...
		• breakfast / a cup of tea / lunch/ a break / dinner / some coffee/ a sandwich • a bath / a shower / a shave / a holiday/ a chance / a difficulty/ an operation/ an idea / a feeling/ a plan • a chat / a row / a bad dream/ problems • a look at something / a word with someone

EXERCISE:

Complete with the right form of HAVE GOT where possible.

- (A) "Excuse me! _____ you _____ the time, please?"
- (B) "I'm starving. Could I _____ a sandwich, please?"
- (C) "When _____ you _____ Maths?" - "On Tuesdays and Thursdays"
- (D) "Why's Ann taking some aspirin?" - "Because she _____ a headache."
- (E) "What would you like to drink?" - "I'll _____ a Coke, please."
- (F) I usually _____ eggs for breakfast.
- (G) "Maria _____ a baby. It's a girl. They're calling her Lily."
- (H) She _____ a shower every evening.
- (I) "David! Can I _____ a word with you for a moment?"
- (J) Daisy _____ (not) a new computer. It's breaking down all the time!
- (K) Thomas _____ some crisps in his bag.
- (L) "I know!" "I _____ the answer!"
- (M) Rachel usually _____ her lunch at the canteen.
- (N) _____ my cousin _____ piano lessons after school?