Simple Present Tense: Fill in the blank with the correct verb.

1. This article _____ (review/reviews) a study by Mustofa, Karya, and Halim, who explored Indonesian students' views on gender equality in education.

2. The findings _____ (show/shows) that most Indonesian students recognize the importance of gender equality and support equal opportunities for all genders

3. The study _____ (highlights/highlight) the need for comprehensive actions to address gender disparities in Indonesian schools.

4. The study's findings _____ (offer/offers) insights into the specific challenges faced by Indonesian students and can guide policies and practices to improve gender equality in education.

5. Additionally, the study mainly _____ (focuses/focus) on students' perceptions rather than objective measures of gender equality.

Simple Past Tense: Fill in the blank with the correct verb.

1. The researchers _____ (used/use) surveys and interviews to collect data from a diverse group of Indonesian students.

2. The authors _____ (conducted/conduct) the research at National Dong Hwa University in Taiwan and Indonesian universities.

3. The study also _____ (found/find) persistent biases and stereotypes that affect students' views on gender equality.

4. The researchers _____ (used/use) a mixed-methods approach, combining surveys and interviews, which provides a thorough analysis of the topic.

5. Female students _____ (reported/report) experiencing more discrimination and unequal treatment compared to males.