STUDYING IS FUN – READING EXTRA ACTIVITIES

A. Read and check.

Look, read and listen.

Where are we? What's "Österreichische Nationalbibliothek"?

That's German.

Oh, we're at the Austrian National Library!

It seems people don't read a lot in Austria...

Maybe there are other rooms. Let's get out and explore this place!

Yeah, but how? There are no doors!

Who are you? How did you find this room?

Wow! Are you a magician?

Wow!

Look! It's a secret door!

Look at the ceiling! I love Baroque art!

You know something about art, don't you?

It's my favorite school subject!

That's the secret reading room. I like it because it's quiet and comfortable.

I see. I like to read in quiet places too.

Hey, Browniel! You really have your nose in a book!

AMAZING CHILDREN'S LIBRARIES AROUND THE WORLD

Libraries are magic places where knowledge and adventure are just a page away. Here are two great libraries dedicated to children.

MY TREE HOUSE, IN CENTRAL PUBLIC LIBRARY, SINGAPORE

In the world's first "green library" for children, there is a tree house made of recycled bottles donated by supporters. There children can read, explore and learn about the environment in a fun and interactive way.

Opening hours: Mon-Sun: 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

BIBLO TØYEN, IN OSLO, NORWAY

Adults are not allowed in Norway's first library only for kids (10 to 15 years old). There are great books there, but the library also offers other educational activities in areas such as drama, music, cooking, computer programming and 3D printing.

Opening hours: Mon-Fri: 2 p.m. to 7 p.m.
Sat-Sun: 12 p.m. to 4 p.m.
