

Listen and read the questions after the audio.

1. Do you know what time the department store opens?
2. Could you tell me where Baker Street is?
3. I was wondering why you moved to Europe.
4. Do you have any idea how he's managed to get in shape so quickly?
5. Would it be possible for you to finish the project by tomorrow?
6. Is there any chance we could change the meeting to Thursday?
7. Could you tell me if there are any specific requirements or restrictions at the venue?

Now make indirect questions:

- 1 What are the client's objectives and requirements for this project?
2. How can we ensure that the design meets the client's constraints and budget?
3. What factors should be considered in the feasibility studies for this project?
4. Have the site appraisals been conducted to assess the suitability of the location?
5. What information do we have about the site, such as surveys and geotechnical reports?
6. How can we effectively manage and mitigate potential risks associated with this project?
7. What is the procurement strategy for obtaining the necessary goods and services?
8. Can you provide a detailed project programme outlining the timeline and milestones?
9. Has a concept design review been conducted to ensure alignment with the project brief?
10. How are we evaluating the project from a cost perspective?
