

THE PALAEOLITHIC AGE

Complete the text using the words in the table. Drag and drop every word to the correct place.

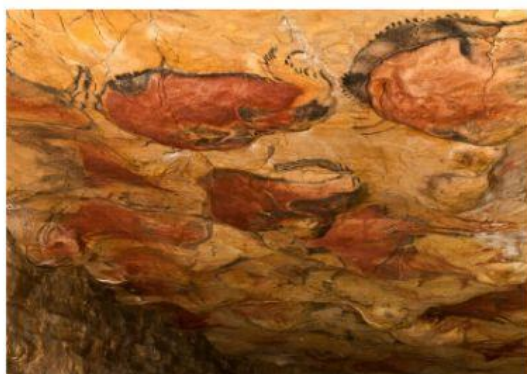

(Completa el texto con las palabras de la tabla. Arrastra cada una al lugar correcto.)

The Palaeolithic Age is the first and longest period in _____. It extends from the emergence of early first _____ about 5 million years ago, to the invention of _____ and _____ about 10,000 years ago.

Early humans were _____ (the hunted animals) and _____ (they gathered wild plants and fruits). They were _____, what means that they followed the animals that they hunted and looked for places where they could find food and water. They also stayed in rock shelters, _____ and _____ made from branches, leaves and animal skins.

People made _____ from stone, bones and wood. They also learned how to make _____, and they used it to _____ their shelters, to _____ food and _____ themselves from _____ animals. They lived together in _____ of 20 to 40 members, and several tribes formed a _____.

Early human beings were afraid of _____ like thunder and lightning. They practised _____ to ask the _____ for help. They decorated their caves with _____. The most famous Palaeolithic paintings were found in _____ (Spain) and _____ (France). These paintings often represented _____, and they were very _____ and _____.

Early humans also used stone, bones or _____ to make small statues called _____.

animals	clan	realistic	wild	rituals
Natural forces	tribes	spirits	Altamira	cook
heat	polychrome	fire	huts	protect cave paintings	caves	Prehistory	Lascaux	ivory
gatherers	agriculture	hunters	Livestock farming	nomads
Venus statuettes	tools	hominids

