Jenna Jones, Rain Forest Hiker

Reporter: Jenna, you are only 13 years old, but you have already hiked in five rain forests around the world.

Jenna: I'm very lucky. My dad is a scientist, and he studies birds. When he goes to a rain forest, he sometimes takes me with him.

Reporter: Where have you and your father hiked?

Jenna: We've hiked in rain forests in South America, Africa, and Asia. Last month, we went to the Kakamega Rain Forest in Kenya.

Reporter: What did you see?

Jenna: I saw so many colorful birds there, and I took a lot of photos. I've uploaded them to my computer. All my friends want to see them.

Reporter: I'm sure they do. Thanks, Jenna!
