Omelets!

How do you eat yours?

<sup>1</sup> A lot of people around the world eat eggs. One of the most popular ways to eat eggs is to make them into omelets. But an omelette in Spain is very different from an omelet in Indonesia! This is how people in different countries eat theirs.

<sup>2</sup> Rudi has two brothers and one sister. They live in Jambi in Indonesia. Their favorite breakfast is telur dadar—an Indonesian omelet. Their grandmother makes it for them every morning. She uses ten eggs each day! The omelets have garlic, onions, and chili in them. They're delicious!

<sup>3</sup> Akira lives with her mom and dad in Tokyo. Her favorite snack is her mom's tamagoyaki. It's a thin Japanese omelet. Akira eats this five times a week. Her mom adds two teaspoons of sugar and one teaspoon of soy sauce to the eggs. She then cooks the eggs in a hot pan. It's really tasty!

<sup>4</sup> Maria's grandmother makes tortilla de patatas for her family at least four times a week. She uses six eggs, three large potatoes, and one large onion. Maria loves her grandmother's omelets.

Look at the paragraph numbers and the numbers you underlined in the reading. Circle the correct answer.

Paragraph number	Number in the reading	Answer
Paragraph 2	2	a. number of brothers Rudi has b. number of sisters Rudi has
Paragraph 2	10	a. how many omelets Rudi's grandmother makes b. how many eggs Rudi's grandmother uses
Paragraph 3	2	a. teaspoons of sugar b. teaspoons of soy sauce
Paragraph 3	5	a. number of times Akira eats a snack each week b. number of times Akira eats tamagoyaki each week
Paragraph 4	6	a. number of potatoes b. number of eggs

Look at the chart of ingredients. Read Omelets! How do you eat yours? again. Check the boxes if the person uses that ingredient.
