

Task 1: The given chart shows the water level in reservoirs in cities in Australia in October 2009 and October 2010.

rises	although	respectively	overall	former	significant respect	constantly	latter	sharper	striking	roughly

The bar chart illustrates information about the changes in the level of water in reservoirs in 6 cities in Australia 2009 to 2010.

From an perspective, it can be seen from the graph in almost cities, with the exceptions of Perth and Sydney, their water level witnessedover the period question. Another feature that can be noticed is the figure for Brisbane washigher opposed to the others.

Looking at the chart more detail, as for Canberra and Melbourne, there were growths in their water level, reaching roughly 85% and 80% Similarly, Melbourne and Brisbane also saw increases, their figures went up at a pace, increasing to surprising 90% and 95% in turn.

In contrast, with to Perth and Sydney, whereas theshowed a substantial decline approximately 55% to just under 35, the figure for theremained stable slightly below 55% during this period.