Sightseeing Tour

This summer, I'm visiting my uncle. He lives in a small town in the Scottish Highlands. It's famous for its castle and ancient ruins. In the summer, there are a lot of tourists. They often arrive exhausted from hiking through the Highlands with their backpacks. Luckily, there are plenty of hotels and beds and breakfasts to stay in. There's also a campsite, although in Scotland people are also allowed to camp in the wild.

Most travelers stop in the town for a few days to relax and see the sights. The town is beautiful and there is so much to see and do. Usually, you can see the tourists wandering around with maps and cameras, eager to discover something exciting – or maybe they're just lost. It's funny because there are so many signposts in the town, it's impossible to get lost.

My uncle is a tour guide, he takes groups on sightseeing tours of the town. They meet every morning at 9 am in front of the statue in the town square. There's a wonderful view of the hills and mountains nearby. With binoculars you can even see the people hiking and the wind blowing in the grass.

31. What is so funny about the tourists?

A. They think they can take a lot of beautiful pictures.
B. They walk through the town with cameras and binoculars.
C. It's very difficult to get lost here, but the tourists do.
D. They think they will discover something new.
