Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to complain about the _____ (bad) service I have ever received from your company. I bought a computer game from Top Games Stores on 17th November. Unfortunately, I experienced a number of problems when I contacted the store about the game.

I ordered the _____ (recent) version of Friends of the Earth computer game and, despite the promise that your company has one of the _____ (fast) delivery times in the area, it did not arrive until 27th November, ten days _____ (late). To make matters _____ (bad), when I eventually received the game, it was badly scratched. When I tried to contact the company, the person who dealt with my call was one of the _____ (rude) people I have ever spoken to. She told me that I had misused the game and the company could not be held responsible.

As a regular customer of yours I feel very disappointed with the way I have been treated.

Therefore, I would appreciate it if you could replace the computer game or give me a refund.

I look forward to your reply as _____ as (soon) possible.

Yours faithfully,

Diane Webbs
