Carlos: What do you want to be in the future?

Lillian: I want to be an airline pilot. I like to travel and I love planes. How about you?

Carlos: I want to be a hairstylist or a dentist.

Lillian: Why? They're very different professions.

Carlos: Because I want to continue the family business. My mother has a hair salon, and my father has a dental clinic.

Lillian: But which one do you prefer?

Carlos: The salon, I think. I can talk and work at the same time. In the clinic, patients sit there with their mouth open and say nothing. It's boring!.
