

Task 1

- You are going to read an article about what flight attendants don't like about some passengers' behavior.
- Some words are missing from the text.
- Use the words in brackets to form the words that fit in the gaps (1-9).
- Then write the appropriate form of these words on the lines after the text.
- There might be cases when you do not have to change the word in brackets.
- Use only one word for each gap.
- There is an example (0) at the beginning.

MAKE THEM HAPPY

We asked flight attendants about the most (0) (irritate) things passengers do on planes.

As any frequent traveler will tell you, traveling by air can be a rather (1) (stress) experience, especially as more and more flights are (2) (delay) or canceled. But it's important to remember that (3) (fly) is a miracle, and those who help you get from point A to point B safely — your flight crew members — deserve the highest respect.

"Our job is much more than serving food and drinks. We are safety professionals and are trained to handle (4) (emerge) situations that can occur during a flight," Andy, a current crew member at a major airline, shared with Travel + Leisure.

So, how can you get treated like a VIP in the air by your cabin crew? It couldn't be (5) (simple): be nice.

"If you show me a little respect, I'll be more than happy to make your flight as (6) (enjoy) as possible," said Andy.

We carried out a survey to ask flight attendants about what passengers do that crew members find (7) (annoy). Here are the most offensive actions you should avoid: touching a crew member without their (8) (permit), asking for water (9) (immediate) upon boarding, using the bathroom at an inappropriate time, pressing the call bell every two minutes, and last but not least, not saying thank you.

Task 2

- You are going to read an anecdote about Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th president of the U.S. Some words are missing from the text.
- Your task is to choose the most appropriate word from the list (A-M) for each gap (10-17) in the text. Write the letter of the appropriate word in the white box.
- Each word can be used once.
- There are three extra words that you do not need to use.
- There is an example (0) at the beginning.

A BUSY JOURNEY

told the following

The famous biographer David McCullough (0)
