E. READING

Unusual Foods

Every country, region, and culture has its own unusual foods. Often, these foods can seem strange to people who are not from the region. Yet in many cases these unusual foods are actually tasty delicacies.

Many people are scared of bugs and insects. Some of these bugs are slimy. A few of them are poisonous. Yet there are places where bugs are well-loved foods. After all, bugs are a great source of protein! There are people in Thailand who like to eat scorpions. Ants are delicious to some in Australia and Colombia. Caterpillars are a favorite food in some of the countries of Africa. Of course, many of these foods are covered in chocolate.

Pizza is a favorite food of many people. In the United States, a pizza often comes covered with cheese, pepperoni, sausage, or mushrooms, to name just a few toppings. But there are some people who like to put different kinds of toppings on their pizzas. In England, some pizzas have been topped with frog legs. In Japan, some pizzas come with squid, ketchup, or maple syrup. In New Zealand, pizzas are known to be served with pickles and grapes. In Brazil, hard-boiled eggs and peas are sometimes used.
