Revision of tenses, used to/would, and passive voice.

1. Match the active voice sentence with its correct form of passive.

The teacher corrected the student.	The customers had been served…
The waiter was serving the customers.	The student was corrected by…
The waiter had served the customers.	The student will be corrected…
The teacher is correcting the students.	The customer is served by…
The waiter will serve the customers.	The customer was being served…
The teacher has corrected the students.	The student is being corrected…
The teacher will correct the students.	The customer will be served…
The waiter serves the customer.	The student has been corrected…

2. Fill the gaps with the correct form of the verb given. Pay attention to the words in yellow, they will help you.

I _____ (not remember) anything from the night of the accident until today.
She sold the ring that I _____ (give) her for her birthday after we broke up.
We took our clothes off and _____ (jump) into the pool.
Look! The traffic is terrible, we _____ (lose) our flight.
A: I'm late for my flight! B: Don't worry. I _____ (drive) you to the airport.
(This is a spontaneous decision, it takes place as they are talking, and can be considered a promise)
We _____ (live) in this house since we got married.
I think Vee and Zee _____ (fall) madly in love, eventually.
I _____ (never be) to Japan, I'd love to visit it someday.

3. Complete with used to or would.

As a kid I _____ (play) football with my cousins, but we don't play anymore.
When I was younger I _____ (not have) long hair.
When they were 9 they _____ (love) listening to country music.
She _____ (cook) delicious meals when she was younger.
My parents and I _____ (live) in a small house.

LIVEWORKSHEETS