READING

Are you worried about who you're going to hang out with? Don't be. It's easy to make new friends. Just try these tips!

Go to the right places

You will meet students who are in your classes, but there are a lot of other students in the library and the cafeteria. Make sure you spend some time there.

Ask questions

It's true everywhere: people like to talk about themselves, so ask them questions. The other person will talk to you and will probably ask you a question too. Before you know it, you'll have a conversation!

Join a club

Join a club to do an activity that you enjoy. You'll hang out with people who like the same things that you like. Plus, you'll see these people often and one or two of them could become your close friends.

Wear the right clothes

Wear clothes that make you feel happy and comfortable, and don't worry about being fashionable. It isn't important. When you go to a new school or start college or university, you will have other things to think about.

Everyone will be nervous

Remember that there will be other people like you who are new and want to make friends. It's difficult, but it's OK to be scared or shy sometimes.

Smile

Look friendly. Smiling is always a good way to do this. Scientists have done tests and they show that people who don't smile find it difficult to make friends. If you're shy, just breathe, relax and then smile.

Not everyone will become your friend

You can't be friends with everyone that you meet, and you probably won't become friends for life with the first people you meet. Don't feel stressed about it. Be patient. Very soon, you will make some good friends.
