

Bikes for Cigarettes

Tuesday, 11th December 2018

This is Sayed. He is 9 years old. He lives in Turkey.

The government gives him a bike.

Photograph: Paul Benjamin Osterlund

Source: <https://www.theguardian.com/cities/2018/dec/11/cycles-for-cigarettes-turkish-city-gives-children-bikes-if-relative-quits-smoking-kilis>

Why does the government give Sayed a bike?

Sayed's father quits smoking. Sayed's father does not smoke anymore.

Sayed's father does not smoke. The government is happy.

The government is happy. The government gives Sayed a bike.

The government gives Sayed a bike. Sayed is happy.

Sayed is happy. He rides his bike.

The government is happy. Sayed is happy.

Is Sayed's father happy? We don't know.

Bikes for Cigarettes

What is wrong? Find mistakes. ~~Cross~~.

This is Sayed. He is 90 years old. He lives in Australia.

The government gives him a car.

Why does the government give Sayed a car?

Sayed's father quits drinking. Sayed's father does not drink anymore.

Sayed's father does not drink. The government is angry.

The government is angry. The government gives Sayed a car.

The government gives Sayed a car. Sayed is angry.

Sayed is angry. He rides his car.

The government is angry. Sayed is angry.

Is Sayed's father angry? We don't know.

Bikes for Cigarettes

Write missing words.

This is Sayed. He is _____ years old. He lives in _____.

The government gives him a _____.

Sayed's father quits _____. Sayed's father does not _____ anymore.

Sayed's father does not _____. The government is _____.

The government is _____. The government gives Sayed a
_____.

The government gives Sayed a _____. Sayed is _____.

Sayed is _____. He rides his _____.

The government is _____. Sayed is _____.

Is Sayed's father _____? We don't know.