

A science podcast

- ▶ The first podcast in the series on senses talked about <sup>1</sup>.....
- ▶ Supertasters have more <sup>2</sup>..... for processing taste than an average person.
- ▶ The presenter was surprised that being a supertaster can <sup>3</sup>..... your diet.
- ▶ Approximately a <sup>4</sup>..... of the population are supertasters.
- ▶ People tend to lose their sense of taste and smell after the age of <sup>5</sup>.....
- ▶ The majority of people don't understand that the nose and mouth are both needed to produce a <sup>6</sup>..... variety of tastes.
- ▶ The 350 receptors in the nose work by detecting the <sup>7</sup>..... structure in the smell of what we eat.
- ▶ It is estimated that human beings can distinguish up to <sup>8</sup>..... different smells.
- ▶ Many people from the Science for Life office <sup>9</sup>.....
- ▶ The presenter was disappointed to have <sup>10</sup>..... result in a taste test.