about two weeks ago. I sometimes get bored because regular are things. They're better than me but then we have this cool blog. I wrote it myself. My blog. My dad's a mechanic, and he's been doing his job all the time and he's never serious. He thinks he has a sense of humour but my friends aren't always sure!

I have a pet guinea, his name is James. He's got a cage in the corner but he always comes in it. He usually flies around. He is friendly but he isn't clever. He doesn't get good marks. He never uses the toilet. He also likes computer games. I'm not very good at them but I like them.
