

COMPOUNDS

	Some	Any	No	Every
One
Where Thing

There isn't anything interesting on TV now

Someone has taken my umbrella

There's nothing we can do

Everyone can achieve what they want

I don't know anyone with such amount of money

I've got something that you can use

English is spoken everywhere

Can we camp anywhere in this forest?

Do you know anyone who has climbed a volcano?

No one can predict an earthquake

Is there anything I can do?

They stole everything in our house

His parents live somewhere in the south of France

There was nowhere to hide

I couldn't go anywhere

Compounds beginning in some- are used in: a) affirmative b) interrogative c) negative Compounds beginning in any- are used in: a) affirmative b) interrogative c) negative Compounds beginning in no- are used in: a) affirmative b) interrogative c) negative

To talk about all things, places and people we use compounds beginning in

a) Some

b) Any

c) No

d) Every