Land Dispute Sparks Legal Battle in Jakarta: Residents Seek Resolution

A longstanding land dispute in Jakarta has escalated, leading to legal proceedings and mounting tensions among residents. The case revolves around a valuable parcel of land in the heart of the city and has drawn the attention of local authorities and legal experts.

The dispute centers on a 10-acre piece of land located in the bustling Tanah Abang district. 1) ... On one side are the descendants of the land's original owners, who argue that their family has a legitimate historical claim to the property. On the other side are a group of developers 2) ... .

The conflict came to a head when construction efforts began on the disputed land earlier this year. This prompted the original landowners and some concerned citizens to rally together, calling for a halt to the development. Demonstrations and public protests followed, drawing the attention of local media and authorities.

The Jakarta City Government has taken steps to address the issue, appointing a special task force to investigate the competing claims. Local officials have urged all parties involved to cooperate fully with the ongoing investigation, emphasizing the importance of a peaceful resolution.

Mr. Irfan, a representative of the original landowners, stated, "We are merely seeking justice and recognition of our family's historical connection to this land. We have documents 3) ... ."

The developers, however, maintain that they followed the proper legal channels when acquiring the land. Their spokesperson, Ms. Siti, stated, "We are confident in the legality of our purchase and the necessary permits for development. We are open to 4) ... ."

As the legal battle unfolds, Jakarta residents are hopeful for a peaceful resolution to the land dispute, one that respects both historical claims and legal processes. The case serves as a reminder of the importance of clear land tenure systems and transparent property transactions in urban development, 5) ...

LIVEWORKSHEETS

A. Put the following sentences into the text. There is one extra answer.

a. dating back generations that support our claim

b. Local authorities and stakeholders remain committed to finding a resolution.

c. issues that Jakarta and many other cities continue to grapple with.

d. who claim to have purchased the land from a third party with proper documentation

e. This prime real estate has been subject to conflicting claims by multiple parties for over a decade.

f. a fair resolution but also seek to protect our investment

B. Match the words in bold from the text with the definitions below.

1. A solution or decision that ends a problem or dispute.
2. A person who speaks on behalf of a group or organization, often to convey information or answer questions.
3. A disagreement or argument between people or groups about something.
4. Something that has been happening or existing for a long time.
5. People who own or possess a piece of land or property.
6. To come together or gather as a group, often for a common purpose, like expressing support or making a protest.
7. Looking for or trying to find something.
8. When a situation becomes more serious or intense, often due to worsening conflicts or issues.
9. To deal with or try to solve a problem or issue.
10. Someone who speaks or acts on behalf of a group, organization, or community.

C. Match the words in bold from the text with the definitions below.

1. The community decided to _____ together to raise awareness about the environmental issue. What did they do during the rally?
2. The argument between the neighbors _____ when they couldn't agree on the property boundary.
3. Who would be the best _____ to represent our club during the interview with the local news station?
4. Can you propose a _____ to the ongoing problem of littering in our neighborhood?
5. How would you suggest resolving a _____ between two friends who can't agree on which movie to watch?

LIVEWORKSHEETS