Jeon Jungkook

Jeon Jungkook _____ (be) born on September 1, 1997, in Busan, South Korea. His family consists of his parents and an elder brother. He _____ (attend) Baekyang Elementary and Middle School in Busan. When he became a trainee, he _____ (transfer) to Singu Middle School in Seoul.

Jungkook initially _____ (have) dreams of becoming a badminton player when he was young, but after seeing G-Dragon perform "Heartbreaker" on television, it _____ (influence) him to want to become a singer.

He _____ (graduate) from Seoul's School of Performing Arts, an arts high school, in 2017. In November 2016, he _____ (decide) to forgo taking the CSATs, Korea's nationwide university entrance exam. As of 2020, he is enrolled at Global Cyber University, majoring in Broadcasting and Entertainment.

At the age of 13 (2011), Jungkook _____ (audition) for the South Korean talent show Superstar K during its auditions in Daegu. Fortunately, he _____ (be /not) selected, but he received casting offers from seven entertainment companies. He eventually chose to become a trainee under Big Hit Entertainment after seeing RM, now his fellow band member and leader in BTS, perform.

To work on his dance skills in preparation for his debut, he _____ (go) to Los Angeles during the summer of 2012 to receive dance training from Movement Lifestyle. In June 2012, he _____ (appear) in Jo Kwon's "I'm Da One" music video and also _____ (work) as a backup dancer for Glam before his debut.

On June 12, 2013, Jungkook _____ (make) his debut as a member of BTS with the track "No More Dream" from their debut single album, 2 Cool 4 Skool.

In 2016, Jungkook was cast in the pilot episode of Flower Crew. He also _____ (appear) on Celebrity Bromance, and competed in King of Mask Singer under the name "Fencing Man," appearing in episode 72.

On November 6, 2018, Jungkook _____ (perform) "We Don't Talk Anymore" with original singer Charlie Puth in a special collaboration stage during the MBC Plus X Genie Music Awards. Various artists have cited him as an influence and role model such as Kim Dong-han and Hyeongseop X Euiwoong. Jungkook has cited Justin Bieber, Justin Timberlake, and Usher among his musical inspirations.

Reference: https://juksun.com/biography/jungkook-bts/

LIVEWORKSHEETS